PREFACE

I am so situated geographically that my entire business has been established and conducted almost entirely through correspondence, in the course of which I acquired many pleasant and valuable correspondents, with whom the exchange of letters has furnished me unbounded pleasure and instruction, and brought about more intimate friendship along Numismatic lines.

One of the first of these valuable correspondents whose friendship I had the good fortune to acquire was Prof. Byron N. Rooks, whose elegant collection I now offer. It is with much reluctance that Prof. Rooks is parting with his collection; which, as he had recently remarked to me, he had looked upon as his companions for the past thirty years or more; but failing health made it imperative that he relinquish active pursuit of his hobby.

EXTENT OF THE COLLECTION.

I merely desire to call particular attention to the average fine state of preservation of the collection. As regards the rare dates and varieties, it is impossible and needless to enumerate them here, as they are entirely too numerous. But only a casual examination of the catalogue will disclose one of the finest collections of coins and currency offered in recent years.

REGARDING BIDDING.

I have used the utmost care in describing the coins carefully, and in listing them nearly all separately it will avoid the necessity of bidding on several coins for the purpose of obtaining just one. Those who have before bid at my sales, are aware of the fair manner in which their bids are executed and the liberal treatment accorded them; and I solicit others to give me the opportunity to demonstrate my standard of classification of coins and my business methods.

Send your bids for any lots that interest you. Do not hesitate to bid on a certain lot because you think that the coin will sell for more than you are willing to pay. Bid as much as you are willing to pay for the lot, and I will buy the lot for you at as much under your bids as the other bidders will permit.

I charge no commission for executing bids.

If you desire special information regarding any lots, I shall be glad to promptly furnish same.

Please mail bids early.

Very truly yours,

B. MAX MEHL.

RARE FIFTY DOLLAR GOLD PIECE.

- 1599 1852 Assay Office, octagonal. Obverse, Eagle on rock holding shield, ribbon inscribed LIBERTY in beak. Above, on label, 900 THOUS. Around, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA FIFTY DOLLS. Beaded circle, around which in small letters, UNITED STATES ASSAY OFFICE OF GOLD SAN FRANCISCO CALIFORNIA 1852. Reverse, engine turned design, target in center. A small scratch in field to right of eagle, and a very light dent on left edge; these do not effect the appearance of the coin, which is extremely fine for the coin and seldom found so well preserved and free from nicks and other marks of circulation. This is the rare variety with 900 Thous. Auction record $275.00. One of the very rarest octagonal slugs.

EXCESSIVELY RARE TEN-DOLLAR GOLD PIECE.

- 1600 California. 1850 BALDWIN & CO. Obverse, Cowboy mounted to right. Above, CALIFORNIA GOLD; below, date, and TEN DOLLARS. Reverse, Eagle with outstretched wings, holding arrows and olive branch in talons. Above, BALDWIN & CO.; below, SAN FRANCISCO. Five small five-pointed stars on either side of eagle. Edge milled. Very faintly scratched in two places near edge on rev.; not in the least marring the piece, but otherwise about uncirculated, with some mint luster. Excessively rare. I doubt if more than five or six specimens—if that many—are known.
